THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

(Audience will kindly rise and sing)

Oh! say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,

What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?

Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,

O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?

And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,

Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.

Oh! say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave

O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

(Audience will kindly rise and sing)

Dear Alma Mater Xavier!

Undying troth we pledge to you
That we the living shall hold true
The faith of those of years now gone
Inviolat kept and thus passed on.

And may this song our voices swell
Until resounds o'er hill and dell
Dear Alma Mater Xavier.

XAVIER'S HERITAGE

Xavier was founded in 1831 by Bishop Edward Dominic Fenwick, O.P., pioneer Catholic bishop of Ohio, as the first Catholic institution of higher learning in the Northwest Territory.

Known as the Athenaeum, the college's first building, in downtown Cincinnati, was largely financed by European Catholics and particularly by Catholic citizens of Vienna. The first class numbered 60 students. From its beginning, the school was dedicated to the patronage of St. Francis Xavier. The Athenaeum attracted students from as far away as New Orleans, Mexico and Central America, and its educational quality interested many local Protestant students.

In 1840, at the invitation of Bishop John Purcell of Cincinnati, the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) assumed control of the institution, ensuring a steady source of faculty. In 1840, under John A. Elet, S.J., the first Jesuit president, the institution was renamed St. Xavier College.

In 1841, Xavier offered its first evening classes and summer courses were introduced in 1914; thus beginning a tradition of serving the unique needs and schedules of professionals in the Cincinnati community.

In 1920, the college moved to its present site in Avondale, and in 1930 was renamed Xavier University, reflecting its growth and complexity.

Xavier's growth in the century and a half since its founding reflects its origins as a teaching institution which soundly prepares students for careers or graduate study or both. Xavier's College of Business Administration enrolls approximately 900 undergraduate students and approximately 1500 MBA students at three campuses: Xavier, Ohio Dominican College and Transylvania University. The college's Center for Management and Professional Development provides seminars and courses to more than 3000 business professionals annually.

Xavier has been an innovator in graduate education, establishing the first graduate program in Montessori education in the United States. Its graduate programs in education have produced the second highest number of school administrators in the state of Ohio. Xavier's graduate program in hospital and health administration is a recognized innovator in the field, and also provides timely and expert advice to health-care professionals through its Xavier Centre of Health Management Education.

Xavier traditionally is committed to high-quality undergraduate education. Of the 28 Jesuit colleges and universities in the United States, Xavier ranks 9th in enrollment. It is among the top ten institutions of higher learning in Ohio, ahead of many larger institutions, in enrollment of National Merit Scholars. Xavier is in the top seven percent of approximately 800 independent American four-year colleges whose alumni pursue graduate study in every field.

A Xavier education, particularly at the undergraduate level, is marked by an emphasis on liberal arts learning, contained in Xavier's always-retained core curriculum. Equally important in the Xavier tradition is the synthesis of human, cultural and ethical values, concern and respect for people, and an appreciation of the worth and dignity of the self and others.

THE SEAL OF XAVIER UNIVERSITY

The Seal or Heraldic Shield of Xavier University combines three principal ideas: St. Francis Xavier, patron of the University; the Jesuit Order of which he was a distinguished member; and the University. The five vertical stripes suggest the coat of arms of the Xavier family. A right arm wearing the Jesuit robe holds aloft the Crucifix, signifying St. Francis Xavier preaching Christ crucified. The three red sea shells signify the three journeys of Xavier into the Orient. Above the shield is the Jesuit seal and below is the Jesuit motto, A.M.D.G. [Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam]. The words Vidit Mirabilia Magna [he has seen great wonders] are from the Divine Office and in context say: "Such is he who having inquired into righteousness, has awakened to her admirable grandeur."

ACADEMIC APPAREL

HISTORY AND SIGNIFICANCE

The history of academic dress and its significance has its beginnings from the earliest days of the old universities. As early as the fourteenth century some colleges required scholars to wear long gowns. Specifications of academic apparel became greatly diversified in Europe.

American colleges and universities decided it beneficial to have a standardized intercollegiate academic apparel code for the United States. In May 1895, representatives from interested institutions met at Columbia University and adopted a code for academic dress.

The "Intercollegiate Bureau of Academic Costume" was formed in 1902 to serve as the information source in matters pertaining to academic dress. In 1932 the American Council on Education appointed a committee to revise the apparel codes established in 1895. Review and revisions to the 1895 academic apparel codes occurred in 1932 and 1959.

Gowns

The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves. It is designed to be worn closed. The gown for the master's degree has oblong sleeves which open at the wrist. The gown is designed with fasteners so that it may be worn open or closed. Black is the recommended color for both gowns. There are no trimmings on either of the gowns.

Hoods

Hoods are worn for the master's degree. The material of the hood must be black and made of the same material as the gown. The master's hood should be three and one-half feet in length and lined with the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The edging is to be three inches of velvet or velveteen with the color being distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. The colors that pertain to Xavier's degrees are as follows:

Arts	White
Business	Yale Blue
Education	Light Blue
Science	Golden Yellow
M/Hospital Administration	Kelly Green
Public Administration	Peacock Blue

Caps

Black mortarboards of the same material as the gown are to be worn with the tassel of the color pertaining to the degree fastened to the middle point of the top of the cap.

The names and honors of the graduates listed are for purposes of this program and do not represent a final certification of graduation.
Xavier University is an academic community committed to equal opportunity for all persons regardless of age, sex, race, religion, handicap or national origin.
